November 2023

Welcome to our Newsletter for November, where we will share news, celebrations and diary dates for the coming month.

So far...

As usual, there have been many special activities and wonderful extra-curricular opportunities for our children since we returned to school in September, and these will continue throughout the year. In addition to our usual teaching and learning, we have played baseball, tennis and football, we have met an author (Cressida Cowell), filmed using a green screen with our friends from Hi Impact, started swimming lessons, visited the Museum, had an afternoon tea with a Princess and started to learn how to play the Ukelele. Phew!! And that's just a start to our wonderful cultural capital programme for the year, there is much more to come.

Most importantly our amazing children are happy and excited to be in school and part of our LPS family.

Head Boy and Head Girl

We are proud to introduce you to the Head Boy and Head Girl for this school year. They are Caitlin and Ashton, and we know that they will take this role seriously and represent our wonderful school with passion and enthusiasm.

Ashton and Caitlin were chosen in a democratic vote by the children in their class. Well done to you both, you are fabulous role models for our school.

Have a great year!

Parents evenings

Parents evenings were a great success. The staff were so pleased to discuss the children's progress with you, and it was lovely to see so many of you there.

Our brand new website is now up and running. Please take a look!

Year 4

We have said a "see you soon" to Mrs Anderson, who has left to have her baby. In her absence, Mrs Macallister and Mrs McAllister will be joined by Mrs Cruse for two days each week. Mrs Cruse is well known to the children and so we hope that the transition will be easy for all concerned. We all wish Mrs Anderson all the luck in the world and can't wait to meet the baby very soon.

Attendance

Attendance continues to be a high priority focus for the school. Each Monday we hold a designated attendance assembly, where the highest attending classes are celebrated and rewarded with a treat for playtime! Our weekly attendance target for the whole school is 97%. Regular attendance at school avoids missed learning, supports friendships and raises attainment. We are a way off our target yet and ask for your support in improving what is a crucial element of your child's education. The attendance champions will be celebrated on our FB page and on our class Dojo pages too.
